Tomorrow's libraries

The "Tomorrow's libraries: Future direction of the South Australian public library network" report spells out a very clear vision for public libraries, as well as articulating the community and personal benefits of libraries. Key strategies are connected community places, creative content and knowledge centres, innovative and digital hubs, partnering with intent and delivering a sustainable future. A copy is available at the Library or at the following website. https://www.libraries.sa.gov.au/webdata/resources/files/SAPLN_tomorrow's_libraries_online.pdf

The report is a result of extensive consultation and research including a workshop in Naracoorte last year.

Author visit - Tricia Stringer
Tuesday 17th November, 12-1pm
Naracoorte Town Hall

The Library presents author Tricia Stringer releasing her latest title "Between the vines". Tricia lives in the beautiful Copper Coast region and delights in portraying rural Australia in her books. Find out how Tricia grew up on a farm, owned a post office and bookshop, spent years in education, has a wonderful family, loves travel, walking on the beach and of course reading and writing.

Family History Assistance - by appointment

Make an appointment to learn and discover about your family history. Discover where your family came from, their occupations, family secrets, war records and the way they shaped the history of country towns. Free one-on-one sessions with a passionate skilled volunteer are available to demonstrate resources to assist in your research. Ancestry.com, an online family tree database, is also available free at the Library.
